

PREMIERE INTO THE SNOW

- Outerwear Collection: 3 x 100 % recycled ski jackets and pants
- JACK WOLFSKIN presents new colour-ways and fits of the performance-oriented ski collection

Idstein, September 2019 – For the 2019 winter season, JACK WOLFSKIN asserts its role as a pioneer of outstanding competence in sustainable innovations. The Snow Sports Collection offers fully equipped products with excellent performance and numerous ski features: e.g. RECCO® System, pockets for ski pass and goggles, snow guard and edge protection in the pants.

SKI-COLLECTION

The collection includes six jackets and pants for both men and women, which are equipped with the exclusive TEXAPORE ECOSPHERE Technology. This consists of a 100% recycled membrane, 100 % recycled outer fabric and a 100% recycled inner filling. Additionally, 100% recycled insulation materials NANUK ECOSPHERE and MICROGUARD ECOSPHERE are present in the ski collection, resulting in around half a million PET bottles and 1.7 tonnes of membrane being recycled in total. Another Milestone: all styles of the collection are 100% new PFC-free. In July of this year, JACK WOLFSKIN and Felix Neureuther announced their long-term collaboration. „The responsible dealing with our environment and the resources is very dear to my heart,“ says Neureuther. „I am pleased to be part of this long-term project with the JACK WOLFSKIN family and to be able to contribute even more to the product development for Winter 2020.“ Neureuther is already working intensively with product development on its own signature styles, which will complement JACK WOLFSKIN's Winter 2020 Snow Sports line.
